And if afterwards it shall or may appeare to the Justices of the same court for the time being, that the same writ so delyuered of Record be not duly returned before thē at the day of the returne therof, or that any other default or negligēce hath bin vsed or had in the not seruing and executing of the saide writs, that then the Justice of the saide court, shall & may by authoritie of this act, assesse such amerciament vpon the said shirife or other officer (in whom such default shal appeare) as to the discreation of the said Justices shal be thought meete & conuenient: which amerciament so assessed, shalbe extreated into the courte of the Exchequer, as other amerciamēts haue bene vsed. And be it ec. that the shirife or other officer to whome such writte of Excommunicato capiendo, or other proces by vertue of this act shall be directed, shall not in any wise be compelled to bring the body of such person or persons, as shal be named in the said writ or proceese, into ẏ said Court of the kings Bench, at the day of the returne therof, but shall onely returne the same writ and proceese thither, with declaration briefly, how and in what maner hee hath serued and executed the same, to the intent that thereupon the saide Justices may then further therein proceede, according to the tenor & effect of this present act. And the said shirife or other officer to whome the execution of the saide writ shall so appertaine, doe or shall returne, that the party or parties named in the said writ cannot be found within his bailiwike, then the saide Justices of the kings Bench for the time being, vpon euery such returne shal award one writ of Capias against the said person or persons named in the saide writ of Excommunicato capiendo, returnable in the same court in the terme time ii. moneths at the least next after the Teste thereof, with a Proclamation to bee contained within the said writ of Capias, that the shirife or other officer to whome the said writ shal be directed, in the ful countie Court, or els at the general assise & gaole delinerie, to bee holden within the same Countie, or at a Quarter Session to bee holden before ẏ Justices of peace within ẏ same cōtie, shal make open proclamation x. dayes at ẏ least before the returne, that the partie or parties named in the said writ, shall within vj. daies next after such Proclamation, yeld his or their body or bodies to the gaole & prison of the saide shirife or other such officer, there to remaine as a prisoner, according to the tenor & effect of the first writte of Excommunicato capiendo, vpon paine of forfaiture of x.li. And thereupon after such proclamation had, and the saide vj daies past and expired, then the said shirife or other officer to whom such writ of Capias shall be directed, shal make returne of the same writ of Capias into the saide court of the kings bench, of all that he hath done in ẏ execution thereof, and whether the party named in the saide writ haue yelded his body to prison or not. And if vpon the returne of the said shirif, it shal appear that the party or parties named in the sayde writ of Capias, or any of them, haue not yelded their bodies to the gaole & prison of the saide shirife or other officer, according to the effect of the same proclamation: that then euery such person that shall so make default, shall for euery such default forfait to the Quēnes highnesse, her heires & successors x.li. which shal likewise be extreated by the saide Justices into the saide Courte of Exchequer, in such maner and forme, as fines and amerciamēts there tared & assessed are vsed to be. And thereupon the said Justices of the kings Bench, shall also award foorthone other Writ of Capias against the person or persons, that shall be returned to haue made default, with such like proclamation as was contained in the first Capias, and a paine of xx.li. to be mentioned in the saide second writ and proclamation. And the shirife or other officer to whome the said second writ of Capias shall bee so directed, shal serue & execute the same second writ, in such like maner and forme, as before is expressed for the seruing and executing of the said first writ of Capias. And if the shirife or other officer, shall returne vpon the said seconde Capias, that he hath made the proclamation, according to the tenor & effect of the same writ, and that the party hath not yelded his body to prison, according to the tenor of the said Proclamation, that then the saide partie that so shall make default, shall for such his contempt & default, forfait to ẏ Queenes highnesse, her heires and successors, the summe of xx.li. which saide summe of xx. li. the saide Justices of the kings Bench for the time being, shall likewise cause to bee extreated into the sayde Courte of Exchequer, ¶ Execution of ſtatutes.

THe King our Soueraigne Lorde remembreth how by vnlawfull maintenances, giuing of liueries, ſignes & tokens, and retainders by Indentures, promiſes, othes, writings, or otherwiſe, imbraceries of his ſubiects, vntrue demeanings of ſhiriffes in making panels, and other vntrue returnes, by taking of money by Juries, by great riots, & vnlawfull aſſemblies, the policie and good rule of this Realme is almoſt ſubuerted, and for the not puniſhing of theſe inconueniences, & by occaſion of the premiſſes, nothing or little may be found by inquirie, whereby the lawes of the land in execution may take little effect, to the increaſe of the murthers, robberies, periuries, and vnluſtineſſe of al men liuing, and loſſes of their liues and goods, to the great diſpleaſure of Almightie God. Therefore it is ordeined for the reformation of the premiſſes, by authoritie of the ſaid Parliament, that the Chanceller and Treaſurer of England, for the time being, and Keeper of the kings priuie Seale, or two of them, calling to them a Biſhop & a Temporal Lord of the kings moſt honorable Counſell, & the two chiefe Juſtices of the kings Bench and Common place, for the time being, or other two Juſtices in their abſence, vpon bill or information put to the ſaid Chanceller for the king or any other againſt any perſon for any miſbehauing afore rehearſed, haue authoritie to cal before them by writ, or by priuie ſeale, the ſaide miſdoers, and they & others by their diſcretions, by whome the trueth may be knowen, to examine, & ſuch as they finde therin defectiue, to puniſh them after their demerits, after the forme and effect of ſtatutes therof made, in like maner & forme, as they ſhould and ought to be puniſhed if they were therof conuicted, after due order of the lawe. Writ of proclamation

8 ¶ For ỳ auoiding of secrete vtlaries &c. Be it &c. That in every action personal wherin any writ of Exigēt shalbe awarded out of anie court in or after ỳ terme of Easter next cōming, one writ of proclamation shalbe awarded & made out of the same Court, hauing day of Teste and returne, as ỳ said writ of Exigēt shal haue, directed & delyuered of record to the shirife of the countie where the defendant at the time of ỳ Exigēt so awarded shalbe dwelling, which writ of proclamation shal obteine the effect of the same actiō, & that the shirife of the county vnto whom any such writ of proclamation shalbe directed, shal make iij. proclamations in this forme following & not otherwise: that is to say, one of the same proclamations in the open countie court, & one other of the same proclamations to be made at ỳ general quarter Sessions of the peace in those parties where the partie defendant at the time of the Exigent awarded shalbe dwelling, & one other of the same proclamations to be made one moneth at the least before the quint. exact. by vertue of the said writ of Exigēt, at or nere to the most vsuall doore of the church or chappell of that towne or parish where the defendant shal be dwelling at the time of the saide Exigent so awarded. & if the defendāt shal be dwelling out of anie parish, then in such place as aforesaid of the parish in the same countie, & next adioining to the place of the defendants dwelling, & vpon a Sunday immediatly after diuine seruice & Sermon, if any sermon there be, and if no sermon there be, thē forthwith after diuine seruice. And that al Outlawries had & pronounced after the end of the next Easter terme, & no writ of proclamations awarded & returned, according to ỳ forme of this statute, shal be vtterly void & of none effect: & that the officer in whose office such writs of Exigent and proclamatiōs shal be made, shal & may take such fees as by the statute made in the vj. yere of the raigne of the late K. of famous memorie king H. 8. (supra 5.) is limitted & appointed in that behalfe, & no greater fees in anie wise, and that the shirife for making of ỳ proclamation at or nere to the church or chappell doore as is aforesaid, shall haue rij. s. And for the auoiding of secret summons in reall actions without conuenient notice of the Tenants of the freehold: Be it &c. that after euerie summons vpō the land in any reall action, riiij. daies at the least before the day of the returne therof, proclamations of the summōs shal be made on a sunday in forme aforesaide, at or nere to the most vsual doore of the Churches or chappel of that towne or parish where the land whereupon the summons was made doth lie, & that proclamation so made as aforesaid, shall be returned together with the names of the summoners: & if such summons shall not be proclaimed & returned, according to the tenor & meaning of this act, then no graund cape to be awarded, but an alias & pluries summōs as the cause shall require, vntill a summons & proclamation shal be duely made and returned, according to the tenor & meaning of this act. And be it &c. that before any allowāce of anie writ of Error or reuersing of anie Outlawries bee had by plee or otherwise, through or by want of anie proclamation to be had or made, according to the forme of this statute, after ỳ end of Easter terme next: the defendant and defendants in the original action shal put in baile, not onely to appeare & answere to the plaintife in the former suit in a new action to be commenced by the said plaintife, for the cause mentioned in the first action, but also to satisfie the condemnation, if the plaintife shall begin his suite before the end of two termes next after the allowing the writ of error, or otherwise auoyding of the said Outlawrit. ¶ Exposition of words.

SOke is suit of men in your Court, according to the custome of the realme. Sak is plee and correction of trespasses of men in your Court, because Sak in English, is encheson in French, as to say for sick sack pur quel encheson, for what hurt: and Sak is put for forfait. Toll, is that you & all your men of all your homage be discharged or quite in all Markets of toll of things bought & sold. Them, is that you haue all the generation of your villaines with their suites and cattaile wheresoeuer they shal be found in England, except that if anie bondman shall remaine quit one yere and a day in anie priuiledged town, so that he shalbe receiued into their communaltie or guild, as one of them, by that meanes he is free and deliuered from villenage. Infangthef, that is, ỳ theues taken taken within your demesne or fee conuicted of theftes, shalbe iudged in your court. Hankelwite, is to be quite of a felon or theefe hanged without iudgement, or escaped out of your custodie. Outfangethefte is, that theeues or felons of your lande or fee, out of your lads or fee taken with feisine, or a stealing, shal be brought backe to your Court & there iudged. Homesoken, is to be quite of amerciamentes for entring into houses violently, & without licence, & contrarie to the peace of our soueraigne Lord the king, & that you hold plee of such trespasses done in your court, and in your land. Grithbrech, is the peace of our soueraigne Lord the K. broken, because Grith in English is Pax in Latin. Blodewit, is to be quite of amerciaments for bloodshedding, & what plees are holde in your court, you shall haue the amerciaments thereof comming, because wit in English is Misericordia in Latin. Fletwit is, to be quite from contention & conuicts, and that you may haue plee thereof in your court, & the amerciaments, for flit in English is tenson in French. Fledwit, is to be quite frō amerciaments, when an outlawed fugitiue cōmeth to the peace of our Lord the king, of his owne will, or being licensed. Flemeswit is, that you may haue the cattell or amerciaments of your man a fugitiue. Lotherwit, is that you may take amends of him which doth defile your bōdwomā without licence. Childwit, is y you may take a fine of your bondwoman defiled & begotten with child without your licence. Forstall is, to be quite of amerciaments & cattels arrested within your lād, & the amerciamēts therof cōming. Scote is to be quite of a certaine custome, as of cōmon tallage made to the vse of y shirife or his bailifes. Gelde is, to be quite of seruile customs, which were wont to be giuē & as yet are giuē, as Yoongeld & such like. Hydage is, to be quite, if our Lord the K. shal take al the land by hides. Caruage is, to be quite if our Lord the K. shal take all the lād by carues. Dangeld is, to be quite of a certaine custome which hath runne somtimes, which the Danes did leuie in Englād. Yoongeld is to be quite of a certaine custome, exacted by tillage through al the land, as of whatsoeuer horne beast. Lastage is to be quite of certain custome exacted in faires & markets, for carying of things where a mā will. Stallage is, to be quite of a certaine custome exacted for the streat taken or assigned in faires & markets. Shewing is to be quite with attachment in anie court, and before whomsoeuer in plaints shewed & not auowed. Abilhersing, is to be quite of amerciamēts before whomsoeuer of transumption proued. Burghbreth is, to be quite of trespas done in citie or borough against the peace. Warwit is, to be quite in giuing of money for keping of watches. Hundredum is, to be quite of money or customes to be done to the gouernors & hūdredors. Broodhalpeny is, to be quite of a certaine custome exacted for setting vp of tables. Brougbote is, to be quite of giuing aid to y repairing of bridges. Burbote is, to be quite of giuing of aid to make a borough, castle, city or wals throwne down. Auerpeny is, to be quite of diuers sums of money for the kings auerages. The treatise of the exposition of wordes. It is no statute.

It is in like maner ordained, that the ſaid Marſhall, of euerie Earle & Baron holding by an entier baronie, ſhalbe contented with one palfray, or with the price of it, ſuch as he hath vſed to haue of olde: ſo that if hée toke a palfray, or the price of one at ẏ doing of his homage in forme aforeſaid, he ſhal take nothing whẽ he is made knight, & if he toke nothing at the doing of his homage, when he is made Knight hée ſhall take. Of Abbots and Priors holding an whole baronie, whẽ they do homage or fealtie for their baronies, he ſhall take one palfray or the price, as afore is ſaid, & this ſhal alſo be obſerued amongſt Archbiſh. & biſhops, of ſuch as hold but a part of a baronie, whether they be religious or ſecular, he ſhal take according to the portiõ of the part of the baronie that they hold. Of religious mẽ that hold in frée almes, & not by a baronie, nor part of a barony, ẏ Marſhal frõ henceforth ſhal demand nothing. And our ſoueraigne Lord the King hath grãted, that by this ſtatute, a Marſhall of fée ſhall not be barred hereafter to demãd more, if he cã ſhew that he hath right vnto more. The kings Chãberlains frõ henceforth ſhal haue of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Abbots, Priors & other perſons ſpiritual, of Earles & Barons holding an entier baronie, a reaſonable fine when they do homage or fealtie. And if they hold by a part of a baronie, they ſhall take a reaſonable fine, according to the portiõ to thẽ belõging. Other Abbots, Priors, perſons ſpirituall & temporall, that hold no entier baronie, nor part of a baronie, ſhal not be diſtrained to make fine, as it is ſaid by thẽ ẏ hold by baronie, or part of baronie. But the chãberlaine ſhalbe contented with his vpper garment, or with the price thereof, which is done in fauour of perſons religious, more then of lay perſons: for it is more conuenient, ẏ religious men ſhould fine for their vpper garment, then to be ſtripped. FOrasmuch as diuers persons vse by nets and other engins to take Feasants & Partridges vpon the lands & tenemẽts of diuers owners & possessioners of the same, without their licence, by the which they lose not only their disport, that they, their frinds & seruants should haue about hauking & taking of the same, but also ỳ profit that should grow to their houshold to the great hurt of all lords & gentlems, & other hauing any great liuelode within this Realme: Wherefore it is &c. that it shal not be lawful to any person of what condition he be, to take or cause to be taken any Feasants or Partriges by net, snares, or other engins, out of his owne Warren, vpon the freehold of any other person, without the assent, agreement, & speciall licence of the owner or possessioner of the same, vpon paine of forfaiture of x li. The one halfe therof to the partie that wil sue for ỳ same, by action of debt, or by bill or otherwise, and the other halfe therof to the owner or possessioner of the said ground, vpon the which the said Feasants and Partriges be so taken. Also it is ordained by the said authoritie, that no maner of person of what condition or degree he be, take or cause to be taken (be it vpõ his own ground or any other mans) the egges of any Faukon, Gosshawkes, Laners, or Swannes, out of the nest vpõ paine of imprisonment of a yere & a day, & fine at the kings will: The one halfe therof to the king, & the other halfe to the owner of the ground where ỳ egges were so taken, & that the Justices of the peace haue authoritie by this present acte to heare and determine such matter, as well by inquisition, as information and proues. Also it is ordained by the said authoritie, that no man from ỳ feast of Pasche next comming, beare any Hauke of ỳ breed of Englande called a Nielle, Gosshauke, Tassel, Laner, Laneret or Faukon, vpon paine of forfaiture of his Hauke to the king, & the said Hauke to be at the kings pleasure. And that al such persons that bring any Nielle Hauke or Haukes, frõ any of the parts beyond the sea, bring a certificat vnder ỳ customers seale of the port where he first landed wt the said hauke or hauks, or if he come out of Scotland, then vnder the seale of the Warden or Lieutenant of the Marche ỳ he commeth through, testifying that the same hauk or hauks be of the parties beyond the sea, or of Scotland, vpon ỳ same paine. And that person that bringeth any such hauke or haukes to the king, shall haue a reasonable reward of the king, or els the same hauk or haukes for their labour. Also it is ordeined by the same authoritie, that no man take any Ayer, Faukon, Gosshauke, Tassell or Laner or Lanerets in their waren or woods, or in other place, nor purposely driue them out of their couerts accustomed to breede in, to cause them to goe to other couerts to breed, nor slay them for any hurt by them done, but suffer them to passe at their libertie, vpon paine of x li. ¶ Fines.

FOrasmuch as fines leuied in our court ought & doe make an end of al sutes, & thereof are called fines, chiefly when after waging of battel, or the great assise in their cases, they hold the last and finall place for euer, & nowe by a certaine time passed, aswel in the time of king Henry of famous memorie our father, as in our time, the parties to such fines and their heires, cōtrary to the lawes of our realm of auncient time vsed, were admitted to annul and defeat such fine, alleaging, that before such fine leuied, and at the leuying thereof, & since, the demandants or plaintifs, or their ancestors were alway seised of the landes conteined in the fine, or of some parcell therof, and so fines lawfully leuied, were many times vniustly defeated & annulled by iurors of the countrey, falsly & maliciously procured: We therefore intending to prouide a remedy in the premisses, in our Parli. at Westminster haue ordeined, that such exceptions, answeres or inquisitions of the countrey, shal from henceforth in no wise be admitted, cōtrary to such recognitions or fines. And further, wee will that this statute shall extend aswell vnto fines heretofore leuied, as vnto them ỳ shalbe leuied hereafter. And let the Iustices see that such notes & fines, as hereafter shall be leuied in our court, be read openly & solemnly, & that in the meane time al plees shal cease, & this must bee two certeine dayes in the weeke, according to the discreation of the Iustices. dictions, which the late owners of the said sites, circuits, precincts, honors, castels, manors, messages, lands, tenements and other the premisses, had, vsed or exercised, should be ordered, vsed and put in execution. Be it therefore enacted by the authoritie aforesaid, that al & singuler the same liberties, frãchises, priuiledges and temporal iurisdictions, which the late owners of ỳ said sites, circuits, precincts, honors, castles, manors and other the premisses, lawfully had, vsed and exercised by themselues, or by their officers or ministers, or which they might haue vsed or exercised, within iij. Moneths next before the same sites, circuits, precinctes, honors, castels, manors and other the premisses, came to the possessiõ of the kings highnes: shal be by vertue of this acte reuiued, & be really, and actually in the kings Highnesse, his heires and successors, and shal be for euer in the rule, order, survey and gouernance of the Kings said Chancelor, officers and ministers of the said Countie Palantine, & Duchie of Lancaster. And that the same liberties frãchises, priuiledges and temporal iurisdictions, and al maner fines, issues and amerciamẽts, and other profits and commodities, of what kindes or natures soeuer they be, comming, growing or rising, by reason or occasion of them or of any of them, shalbe vsed, exercised & executed, to al purposes, intents, conditions & respects, and shalbe claimed, leuied, collected and taken by such stewards, bailifs and other officers and ministers, as shall please the kings Highnesse to name & appoint for the same in like maner, forme & condition, as they, or any of them were vsed, exercised, executed, claimed, leuied, collected and take̅ before they came to the handes and possession of our said Soueraigne Lord. And that the said stewardes, baylifes, officers and ministers shalbe cõpelled to accompt for the same, before the said Chauncelor, Officers and Ministers of the said Countie Palantine and Duchie of Lancaster, as other Officers and accomptants in the Court of the said duchie heretofore haue done, or owe to do. And be it &c. that the said steward, bailifs and other officers & ministers shalbe attendant & obedient to all other the Kings courts, aswell for all executions and returnes of writs, warrants & precepts, as for personall apparances, & other dueties of their offices, like as the officers & ministers of the saide late owners did, and ought to do, or should haue done by reason of their said seuerall offices, before ỳ ỳ same liberties, priuiledges & temporall iurisdictions did come to the possessions of our said Soueraigne Lord: and that to be done and obserued vpon al paines and penalties, by the lawes of this Realme, limitted and ordained for any offence or default in the same. And that no shirife, vndershirife, or other officer or minister of any Shirife, or other forreine Officer or minister, shall in any wise intromit or meddle in, with or vpon any of the premisses, otherwise, or in any other maner, or for any other cause, then they or any of the̅ lawfully might haue done before the same premisses did come to the possession of our said Soueraigne Lord.

Prouided alwaies that this Acte nor any thing therein cõtained shal in any wise extend to abrogate, adnul, diminish nor to take away any liberties, franchises, priuiledges, iurisdictions, roialties, or any other profites, commodities and aduantages whatsoeuer they be, belonging or in any wise appertaining to any the Kings castels, honors, manors, lands, tenemẽts or other his possessions of his said Countie Palantine of Lancaster and Duchie of Lancaster, or of either of the̅, but that all such liberties, franchises, priuiledges, iurisdictions, royalties & all other such profits, commodities and aduantages whatsoeuer they be, shall be receiued, taken & answered to the Kinges Highnesse, his heires and successors, by the Chauncelor, Officer and Minister of the saide Countie Palantine of Lancaster, and Duchie of Lancaster, and eyther of them, as heretofore hath bene vsed and done, at any time before the fourth daie of Februarie, in the xxxvij. yere of his most noble raign: any thing, matter or clause in this Act cõtained to the contrarie hereof in any wise notwithstanding. Prouided alwaies, that this Acte, or any thing therein contained, do not extend to disanull, or be hurtfull to any of the liberties or priuiledges of the v. Ports, or the members of the same: but that they and euerie of them shall inioy, possesse and haue all & singuler liberties, customes and graunts to them graunted heretofore, by the most famous Prince of memorie King Edw. 4. and other his noble progenitors, confirmed by our Soueraigne Lord the kinges Maiestie, that now is, in like maner & forme, as though this Acte had neuer bene had ne made.

¶ Hauens and Riuers.

Whereas it is conteyned in the statute of West. 2. cap. 48. (which see before Fishers 1.) That yong Salmons shal not be taken by nets, nor by other engins, at mill dammes, from the nids of April, till the Natiuitie of S. Johu Baptist, vpon a certaine paine limitted in the same statute: It is accorded and assented, that the said statute be firmely holden and kept: Joining to the same, that yong Salmons shall not be taken during the said time, at mill dammes, nor in other places vpō the same paine. And that no fisher nor garthman, nor none other, of what estate or condition that he be, shall from henceforth put in the waters of Thames, Humber, Ouse, Trent, nor no other waters of the Realme, by the said time, nor in any other time of the yere, any nets called stalkers, nor other nettes nor engins whatsoeuer they be, by the which the frie or the breede of the Salmons, Lamprels, or any other fish may in anie wise be taken or destroyed, vpon the paine aforesaid. And also whereas it is conteyned in the same statute, that al the waters in the which Salmons be taken within the Realme, shal be put in defence, as to the taking of Salmons, frō the Natiuitie of our Lady, vntill S. Martins day: It is ordeined and assented, that the waters of Lonsdale, Perle, Ribbil, and al other waters in the County of Lancaster be put in defence, as to the taking of Salmons frō Michaelmas day to the Purification of our Lady, and in no other time of the yere, for cause that Salmons bee not seasonable in the said waters in time aforesaid. And in the parties where such riuers be, there shall be assigned and swoorne good and sufficient Conseruators of this statute, as it is ordeined in the saide statute of Westminster. And that they shall punish the offenders after the paine conteined in the same statute, without any fauour therein to be shewed. An. 13. R. 2. cap. 19.

2 ¶ Forasmuch as the two former statutes of West. 2. cap. 48. & of 13. R. 2. cap. 19. haue not bin duely put in execution for default of good Conseruators of them: It is accorded &c. That the Justices of peace of all the Counties of Englande, shall be Conseruators of the said Statutes in the Counties where they be Justices. And that they and euery of them at all times when they may attend, shal survey the offences and defaults attempted against the statutes aforesaid, And also shall survey & search all the weares in such riuers, that they shal not be very strait, for the destruction of such frie & brode, but of a reasonable widones, after the old assise vsed or accustomed. And if the same Justices or any of them which shal find default or misprision against the Statutes aforesaid, shall make true punishment of them, which be found in default, after the content of the same statutes. And that the same Justices shall put good & sufficient vnderconseruators of the same statutes vnder thē, which shal be swoorne to like surueying, searche & punishment, without any fauour therof to be shewed. And moreouer, that ỳ same Justices in their Sessiōs, shal enquire as well of their office, as at the information of the vnderconseruators aforesaid, of all trespasses, misprisiōs and defaults, made against anie of the points aforesaid, & shal cause them which be therof indicted to come before them. And if they be therof conuict, they shall haue imprisonment, & make fine after the discretion of the same Justices. And if the same be at the information of any of the vnderconseruators aforesaid, the same vnderconseruator shall haue the halfe of the same fine. And forasmuch as it is graunted to the Citizens of London by the Kings progenitors, that they may remoue & take all the weares in the waters of Thames & Medway, & that they shall haue the punishmēts therof pertayning to the king: Our said soueraigne Lord the king in this present Parliament, by the assent aforesaid, hath grāted that the Maior or Warden of Lōdon for the time being, shal haue the cōseruation of the statutes aforesaide: And shall make thereof due execution & like punishment, as afore is ordeined of ỳ Justices of the peace, in the said waters of Thames, frō the Wyre ge of Stanes to London, and from thence ouer the same water, and in the said water of Medeway, as farre as it is granted to the said Citizens, as afore is said. 5 ¶ Because the time of the continuance of the statute (2. and 3. P. and M. before 4.) is now expired, and yet the saide statute is very benefitial, and most necessary to be continued for the ease and common wealth of this land: Bee it enacted &c. That the said statute, and euery article and braunch of the same, shall from henceforth be, stand, and continue in full force, effect, and strength, for and during the terme of vv. yeeres next following, from and after the beginning of this present parliament, and after the expiration of the said vv. yeres, to the ende of the parliament then next after the end of the said vv. yeres to be holden and kept. And forasmuch as the said statute made in the second and third yeeres of king Philip, and Quéene Marie, in diuers partes of this Realme, serueth not to so good purpose & effect, as it may bee made, for that such substance & matter as is most fitte & conuenient for the reparation of the said high waies, cannot be lawfully had, fetched & taken out of the seuerall groundes & soyle thereunto nigh or adioyning, being no great losse or detriment to the owners of the same seuerall grounds & soile, whereby the amendment of the said waies is little increased, or else of very smal and slender continuance, to the great and continuall charge of the poore people inhabiting ther abouts. For reformation whereof, & that the reparations of the saide high wayes may hereafter in good due manner, well and sufficiently bee made: Be it &c. that from henceforth it shal and may be lawful to all & singuler Superuisor and Superuisors, and orderers of the workes for the time being, for the amendment of the said high waies thereunto elected and appointed according to the statute made in the second and third yere of king Philip & Quéene Marie (before 4.) for the better reparation and amendment of the high waies within their seuerall parishes and limits where they shalbe so made Superuisors, (if it shalbe so to them thought necessary) to take and carie away of the rubbish or smallest broke stones of any quarrie or quarries, lying or being within the parish where they shall be Superuisours without licence, controlment or impeachment of the owners or owner, so much as by their discretions shalbe deemed & iudged necessarie to the amendment of the said waies. And that for default of anie quarrie or quarries, not being within their said parish or limits, or in default of rubbish not to bee found in any such quarrie or quarries, it shal and may be lawfull to euery such Superuisor or Superuisors, for the vse aforesaid, in ỳ seueral grounds of any person or persons, being within the parish and limits where they shalbe Superuisors, and nigh adioining to the way or waies wherein such reparations shall bee thought necessary to bee made, and wherein grauel, sand or sinder is likely to be found, to dig or cause to be digged for grauel, sand or sinder, and likewise to gather stones, lying vpon any landes or grounds within the parish, and mēt to be vsed to such seruice and purpose, & thereof to take and carie away so much, as by discretion of the said Superuisors shall bee thought necessarie to bee employed in the amendment of the said high waies.

7 ¶ Whereas in the Parliament holden in the 18. yeare of the Queenes Maiesties raigne that now is, there was one verie necessarie and profitable lawe then made, for the repairing and maintaining of the ferrie and passage called the Kings Ferrie within the Isle of Sheppey in the Countie of Kent, and for the vsuall high waie leading from the Market Towne called Middleton to the saide Ferrie: In and by which acte or statute for the repairing and amending of the said high waie leading from Middleton to the saide ferrie being in great decay, it is amongst other thinges enacted, that it should bee lawfull from thencefoorth yerely during the space of tenne yeares, for three Justices of the peace, whereof one to bee of the Quorum, nexte inhabiting to the saide Towne of Middleton, within the sayde County of Kent, reasonably to assesse and taxe all and euerie land occupiers dwelling out of the said Isle, and within foure miles distant from the saide Ferrie, as to their discretions should seeme conuenient, not exceeding the summe of one pennie vpon euery acre of fresh marsh & vpland in one yeere, and vpon euery ten acres of salt marsh one penie in one yeere. And forasmuch as vpon the letter of the same branch some doubt and question hath risen, whether the said Justices could sesse anie but such as bee land occupiers and dwelling out of the said Isle, and within foure miles distant of the said ferrie: and that thereby the taxations by them to be made by the letter of the said law, will not suffice to repaire the saide decaied waies, for that the lands and grounds lying out of the said Isle, and within foure miles distant from the saide Ferrie, are for the most part occupied by such persons as bee inhabiting without the compasse of the said foure miles, by reason wherof the said high waies remaine still vnrepaired and not amended, & are growen into further decay then at the time of the making of the said statute they were to the great dãger and annoiance of the Queenes Maiesties subiects passing by and thorow the same: For the better explanation of the saide statute, and for the redresse of the saide waies: Bee it nowe enacted by the Queene our soueraigne Ladie, the Lords spirituall and temporall, and the commons in this present Parliament assembled, & by the authoritie of the same, that yerely from henceforth for euer, betweene the feast of Easter and the feast of Pentecost, it shall and may be lawfull to and for fiue, fiue, foure, or three Justices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, inhabiting within eight miles of the said towne of Middleton within the saide Countie of Kent, to assesse & taxe vpon all & euery the landes & grounds lying & being without the said Isle, and within 4. miles distant from the said Ferrie, such assessements and taxations, for, and towardes the repairing and amending of the said high waie, as to them shall seeme reasonable; notwithstanding that the owners or occupiers of the same lands or grounds bee dwelling without the cõpasse of the saide foure miles, so that the same assessements and taxations exceede not aboue one penie for euery acre of fresh marsh & vpland for one yere, and not aboue one penie for euery tenne acres of salte marsh for one yere: The said former acte or anie article, branch,

6 ¶ The two statutes (2. and 4. before) are repealed by the Statute now following. And yet see a Prouiso in the last ende of this nexte Statute hereof, whether so much of the sayde two Statutes is leste in force, as forbiddeth conuerting of Tillage to pasture, in such cases where the same is not forbidden by this statute following here.

7 ¶ Forasmuch as the statute 4. H. 7. cap. 19. (before 1.) and one other statute made 7. H. 8. cap. 1. (before 2.) and the statute made 27. H. 8. cap. 22. (before 3.) are very good and profitable lawes for the common wealth: It is therefore ordained &c. that the said Acts and euery of them, and euery branch and article in the same, and euerie of them contained, shall from hence forth be put in due execution, and remains and cõtinue in force for euermore.

And

And also where by an Act made in the 27. yere of the raigne of our said late Soueraigne Lord king H. the 8. whereby diuers & sundry Religious houses of Mōks, Chanons and Nonnes, which might not dispend in lands, tenements, and hereditaments aboue the cleare yerely value of CC.li. were geuen to the same late king H. the 8. his heirs and successors for euer: (which see Monasteries 9.) It is amongst other things enacted and ordained, that al and singuler persons, and bodies politike and corporate, to whom the said late king H. the 8. his heires and successours, after the making of the same Act, should giue, graunt, let or demise any site or precinct with the houses thereupon builded, together with the demeanes of any Monasteries, Priories, or other religious houses that should be dissolued or giuē to the said late king H. the 8. by that act, & the heires and successors or assignes of euery such person, bodies politike or corporate, should kéepe, or cause to be kept an honest continuall house and household in the same site or precinct, and should occupie or cause to bee occupied yerely as much of the demeanes in ploughing & tillage of husbandrie: that is to say, as much of the said demeanes which then were commonly vsed to be kept in tillage by the gouernours, Abbats, or Priors of the said houses, Monasteries, or Priories, or by their farmor or farmors occupying ỳ same, within the time of xx. yéres next before that act, vpon paine to forfait to the kings highnesse for euery moneth so offending, vj.li. xiij.s. iiij.d. to be recouered to his vse, in any of his courts of Record.

And ouer that, by the same statute it is enacted, that al Iustices of peace in euery Shire where any such offence should bee committed and done contrarie to the true meaning and intent of that act or statute, should in euerie quarter & generall Sessions within the limites of their Commissions, inquire of the premisses, and should haue ful power & authoritie to heare and determine the same, & to taxe & assesse no lesse fine for euery the said offences, then in before limitted for the said offence & estreats thereof to be made and certified into the kings Exchequer; according and at such time and forme, as other estreats of fines, issues and amerciaments be made by the same Iustices, as by the same act more at large doth appeare: Which part of ỳ same act concerning keeping of house and household in the said scites & precincts, and ac-cupying of such demeanes of the same in tillage, as is aforesaid, then was and yet is thought verie beneficiall to the cōmon wealth, and most needfull to be put in due execution: Be it therefore enacted by the authoritie aforesaide, that the said branches and articles of the said statute laste aboue mentioned, made in the sayde 27. yére of our said late soueraign Lord king Henrie the 8. and euerie penaltie & thing touching the same, be also from henceforth put in due execution, and shall remaine and continue in their full force and vertue, according to the good intent and meaning of the same last recited statute: saue thing in this present acte to be hereafter contained to the contrarie notwithstanding.

maintenãce of euery such house or houses, and of tillage and husbandry. Be it therefore enacted that no person or persons whatsoeuer, hauing or that hereafter shal haue any such house or houses of husbandrie, with xx. acres of land or more belonging or lying vnto the same commonly occupied, vsed or demised, shal from and after the first day of this present Parliament, kéep or deuise the same xx. acres of lãd or more, nor any part thereof, frõ any of the said house or houses, vnlesse the same bee kept in tillage or otherwise for the profite of husbandry, according to the nature of the grounde, or according to the custome of the Manors, where the same land shall so be, vpon the paines and forfaitures contained in the said estatute of Henrie the 7. to be taken in such forme, as by the same statute appeareth, except he or they shall lay and assigne to the said house or houses, or to anie other house or houses, being within the same Parish or Lordshippe, or within two miles of the said houses (being also not bound to bee maintained and vpholden by forme of the said statute of king Henrie the 7.) asmuch other lãd within the same parish or Lordship, within two miles, as is aboue saide, for, and in lieu of such, or so much of the former lande, as ought to haue continued by force of the saide statute, with the former house, and cannot cõueniently be returned to the said former house. And bée it ec. that if anie such house or houses of husbandrie and land be diuided or seuered the one from the other by reason of anie lease or leases, for terme of life, liues or for terme of yéres, made or graunted before the first daie of this present Parliament: that then whensoeuer the said lease or leases shall ende or determine, by anie manner of meanes, so as the same house or houses, & lands thereunto belonging, shal be discharged of all such leases: the same house & houses and lands so demised, shall not afterwardes be seuered or deuided the one from the other, but shall goe, be kept, and occupied togither at all times after, according to the declaration before mẽtioned, vpon the paines and forfaitures last before specified, and to be taken also as in the saide statute is mentioned: Except by the returning or reuniting of the same land to the saide house, there shall or may growe anie manifest decaie of anie other houses newly edified, or of any other farmes that hath bin by meanes of distributiõ or seuerance of the land or landes, or anie parte thereof made or assigned to be seuerall tenements or holds. And where the said statute made in the said 7. yere of the raigne of the said K. Henry the 8. among other things in the same it is enacted, that if sithence the first day of the same Parliament, anie lands which at the same first daie, or sithence the same first daie were commonly vsed in tillage, were inclosed, or from hencefoorth should be inclosed and turned onely to pasture, whereby anie house of husbandrie then was, or hereafter should bee decaied: that then all such lands should be by the owner & owners thereof, their heirs, successors or assignes, or other for them, within one yeere next insuing the same decay put in tillage, and exercised, vsed and occupied in husbandrie and tillage, as they were the first day of the same Parliament, or at anie time sithence, and after the maner and vsage of the Countrie where such lands do lie, as by the said act more plainly may appeare. And forasmuch as vpon the saide parte of the said statute, diuers doubts and questions haue been moued heretofore: Be it therefore enacted and declared by authoritie aforesaid, that if at any time sithence the making of the said act, and before the said feast of Saint George, in the said xx. yere of the raigne of the said late K. Henrie the eight, any lands belonging to anie such house of husbandrie, as is aforesaide, haue been turned from tillage to pasture, by any person or persons: that then the same lands or so much other landes being within the same Parish, Lordship, or manor, that heretofore was not lyable or bound by anie lawe or statute to be kept in tillage, shalbe turned againe into tillage within one yere next after the session of this present parliament, and kept in tillage for euer, according to the custome of the countrie, and nature of the soile, whether the saide house whereunto the said lands did belong, bee decaied or no, or whether the same lands were inclosed or not inclosed, or whether some part thereof and not the whole, were kept in tillage or not, vpon the paines contained in the same statute made in the said seuenth yeere of the raigne of our said late king Henry the eight.

Anno 18. Edwardi 3. Statute 3.

3 ¶ We greatly moued of cōscience in this matter, and for this cause desiring as much for the pleasure of God & quietnesse of our subiects, as to saue our conscience, & for to saue and kepe our said othe: By the assent of the great men, & other wise men of our counsaile, we haue cōmanded all our Iustices, y they shall from hencefoorth do euen law and execution of right to all our subiects rich and poore, without having regard to any person, and without letting to doe right for any letters or cōmandement, which may come to them from vs, or from anie other, or by anie other cause. And if that any letters, writs or commandemēts come to the Iustices, or to other deputed to doe law & right, according to the vsage of the realme, in disturbance of the Lawe, or of the execution of the same, or of right to the parties: The Iustices & other aforesaid shall proceede and hold their Courtes & processes, where the plees & matters bee depending before them, as if no such letters, writs or commandements were commen to them. And they shall certifie vs and our counsail of such commaundements which be contrarie to the Law, as afore is saide. And to the intent that our Iustices should do euen right to al people in the maner aforesaid, without more fauor shewing to one more then to another: We haue done our said Iustices to be sworne, that they shal not from hencefoorth, as long as they shall bee in office of Iustice, take fee nor roabe of any man but of our self. And they shal take no gift nor reward by them self nor by others, priuily nor apertly of anie man that hath to do before them by anie way, except meate and drinke, and that of smal value. And that they shall gine no counsell to great men nor small, in case where we be partie, or which doe or may touch vs in anie point, vpon paine to be at our will, bodie, landes, & goods, to doe thereof as shall please vs in case they doe contrarie. ¶ Malt.

WHere diuers and sundry persons, taking vpon them the art and misterie of Malt making, and sundrie other persons, tending more their owne priuat lucre, gaine & profit, then the wholsome victualling of the kings Maiestie, the nobilitie of this Realme, and other his graces subiects, haue now of late by their vnsatiable, couetous, and grædie mindes, accustomably and commonly made much Malt, vnpure and vnseasonable, for that they haue made the same Malt in eight or nine days, where in dæde the same can not be well and perfectly made, vnlesse it haue the time and space of xii. days in the making thereof. And where also diuers & sundrie of the said makers of malt, commonly haue and doe slackly & deceitfully dry the malt, so by them made, for that they would haue an inordinate increase thereof, by the swelling of the said malt, whereby the same malt not being sufficiently dried, cannot be kept any long time or space, but it wil be mustie & ful of wevels, whereby no wholesome drinke for mans bodie can by any meanes thereof be made, which is not onely to the great perill and danger of the nobilitie, and other the kings highnes subiectes, within this Realme, and also to the great losse & decay of the common wealth of the same, but also an vtter impouerishing of the Brewers of this said Realm, for that the saide Brewers (ouer and besides the vnwholsomenes of the drinke, which is cõmonly made thereof) cannot make so much drink of fiftie quarters of malt, being so euil dried & made, as they might & can make of xl. quarters being well and truely made: And also, forasmuch as diuers & sundrie persons, minding & seeking their own priuate & excessiue gaine & profite, forgetting thereby their duetie, & the order or charitie towardes the common wealth & their neighbours in this behalf, do commonly vse to put & mixe good malt & euil malt together, & after put the same malt to sale, as good malt, whereby manie of the kings subiectes haue bene and are like to be verie oftẽ deceiued, to their great losse and hinderãce contrary to the honest, semely & godly buying, selling, & commutation that should & ought to bee amongst Christian people, specially in things concerning the sustentation and sustenance of mans body:

For remedie whereof be it enacted &c. that no such persõ or persons at any time after the first day of March next cõming, shal make any barlie malt (the Moneths of June, July, & August only excepted) but that the same shall haue in making thereof, that is to saie, in the fat, flower, steeping, & sufficient drying of the saide malt, three weekes at the least, & that no such person or persons at any time within the said moneths of June, July & August shall make any barley malt, except the same haue in the fat, floure, steeping, and sufficient drying, the time & space of 17. dayes, at the least, vnder & without which time & times, the said malt cannot be wel & perfectly made, nor wholesom for mans body, vpon paine to forfait & lose for euery quarter of malt which shalbe made by any person or persons contrary to the tenor, purport, & true meaning of this acte, xl.s. And be it further enacted &c. that no person or persons, after the first of March next comming, shall mingle, or put together any malt, not being well & sufficiẽtly made, or being made of mowburnt, or spired barly, with other good malt, & after put the same so mingled to sale vpon paine to forfait & lose for euery quarter so mingled, & put to sale, two shillings.

And be it also further enacted &c. that if any person or persons after the last daye of Januarie next comming, shall put to sale any malt which shall not be sufficiently and wel trodden, rubbed and well fanned, whereby there may be conueniently fanned out of one quarter thereof halfe a peck of dust or more, that then the person so putting the same to sale, shall forfait & lose for euery quarter so put to sale xx.d. The moitie of all which forfaitures to be to the king our Soueraigne Lord, and the other moitie thereof to the partie that will sue for the same by actiõ of debt, bill, plaint or information, in any of the kings courts, wherin no protectiõ, wager of law, nor essoine nor iniunction, shalbe admitted or allowed.

And be it further enacted &c. that the Iustices of peace in euery of their Sessions, & also the Stewarde in euery Leete, shal haue full power & authoritie by vertue of this act, to inquire, heare and determine aswell by presentment of twelue men, as by accusation or information of ii. honest witnesses of, for, and vpon, all and euery the offences and forfaitures aforesaid, aswel for the king, as for ỳ partie that shal sue, procure or cause the same to be presented, as is aforesaid. And that the bailifes and constables of euery Borough or market towne, or other towne where any such malt shalbe made, or put to sale, shal haue full power & authoritie frõ time to time to view, search & survey al such malt as shalbe made or put to sale within any of the said townes. And if any of them shal therupõ find any malt so put to sale being euil made or mingled with euil malt, contrary to the tenor and true meaning of this present act: that then the said Bailife or Constable so finding any such malt euil made, or mingled as is aforesaid, with the aduise of one Iustice of peace, within the same shire, shal cause ỳ same to be sold to such person or persons, & at such reasonable price or prices, & vnder the comon price of ỳ market, as to his discretiõ shall seeme necessarie & expediẽt.

Prouided alwaies and be it enacted &c. that this acte nor any thing therein contained, shal not extend to charge, or be to the making of malt, for any mans owne prouision for his owne house or familie, neither preiudiciall to any person or persons, for, or concerning any of the offences or forfaitures aforesaide: except he or they so offending, shall happen to be sued, presented and accused for the same, in maner and forme aforesaid, within one yere next after any such offence or offences to be done or committed: Any thing in this present acte to the contrarie notwithstãding. and not at retaile, by any in the ſaid cities, boroughs, & other townes franchiſed, but onely by the habitants and freemen in the ſame. And as to all other great wares as cloth of golde & ſiluer, ſilke, fendall, naperie, linnen cloth, canuas, and all other ſuch great wares, and alſo all maner of other great marchandiſes, not aboue expreſſed, whatſoeuer they be, from henceforth aſwel aliens as denizens, aſwel in the citie of London, as in other Cities, boroughs, portes of Sea, townes, faires, markets, & elſewhere throughe the ſaid realm, within franchiſe & without, may ſell the ſame in groſſe to euery perſon forreine or denizen, that will buy the ſame freely & without any denying (except to y kings enimies) aſwel by the bale, cloth, or by the whole peces, at their pleaſure, & not at retaile, vpon paine of forfaiture of the ſame marchandiſes, but only the citizens & burgeſſes in their owne citie & boroughs, and other good townes franchiſed, to whom (& to none other ſtrange marchant of their franchiſe) they may. And it ſhalbe lawful to them without impeachment, to vnfold, vndoe, and cut in the ſame their proper cities and boroughs, the great marchandiſes and other great wares aforeſaid, and aſwell the ſame, as wines and their marchandiſes, there to ſell in groſſe & at retaile, at their pleaſure, paying all the cuſtomes & ſubſidies due notwithſtanding any ſtatutes, ordinances, charters, iudgements, allowances, cuſtomes, & vſages, made or ſuffered to the contrary: which charters & franchiſes, if any ther be, they be vtterly repealed & annulled as a thing made, vſed or granted againſt the cõmon profit or oppreſſion of the people. Sauing alwaies to Prelats & lords of the realm, wholy their liberties and franchiſes, that they may make their puruetances & buyings of victuals, and of their neceſſaries, as they were wont to doe in olde time, & ſauing that the ordinances made before this time of the ſtaple of Caleis, be holden in their force and vertue. And if it is not the kings minde, that the marchants ſtrangers and denizens, that will buy and ſell their woolles, woolfels, wares, cloths, yrõ and other marchandiſes at faires & markets in the countrey, ſhould be reſtrained or diſturbed by this Statute, to ſel or buy freely, ingroſſe or at retaile, as they were wont to do heretofore. And if it ſo happen that from henceforth diſturbance be made to any marchãt, alien or denizen or other vpon the ſale of ſuch things, in Citie, borough, town, port of the ſea, or other place that hath franchiſe, againſt the forme of this ordinance, & the Maior, bailifes, or other that haue y keeping of ſuch frãchiſe, required by the ſaid marchant or other in their name, therof to make remedy, doe not the ſame, & therof be attainted, y franchiſe ſhalbe ſeiſed into the kings hãd. And neuertheleſs, they that haue done ſuch diſturbance againſt this ſtatute, ſhalbe holden to reſtore and yeld to the plaintfe his double damage y he hath ſuffered by this occaſion. And if ſuch diſturbãce be made to ſuch marchants, or to other in townes or places where no franchiſe is, and the lord if he be preſent, or his Bailiſe, conſtable, or other warden of the ſaid townes & plãces, in abſence of the Lords, therof required, to do right and do not, and therof be duely attainted, they ſhal yeld to y plaintife his double damage, as afore is ſaide, and the diſturbors in the one caſe & the other, aſwel within franchiſes as without, if they be attainted, ſhall haue one yeres impriſonment, & be ranſomed at the kings wil. And it is ordeined & eſtabliſhed, that the Chancellor, Treaſorer, and Juſtices aſſigned, to holde plees of the king, in the places where they come, ſhall diligentlie inquire of ſuch diſturbances and greuances, & doe puniſhment according as afore is ordained. And neuertheleſſe, the King ſhall aſſigne by commiſſion certaine people, where and when ſhall pleaſe him, to inquire of ſuch diſturbances and greuances, and to puniſh the offendors in this partie, as before is ſaide. WHen chiefe lords diſtraine in their fée for Cuſtomes and ſeruices to them due, & there is a meane which ought to acquite the tenãt, ſithence it lieth not in the mouth of the tenãt, after that he hath repleuied the diſtreſſe, to denie the demãd of the chiefe Lorde, which auoweth in the kings court, that the diſtreſſe is lawfully taken vpõ his tenant, which is vpon the meane, and many haue bene ſore grieued by ſuch diſtreſſes, in ſo much as the meane (notwithſtanding that he hath ſufficient, whereby he may be diſtrained) doth make long delaies, before he will come into the Court to anſwere for his tenant, vnto the writ of meane, & moſt hard of al when the meane had nothing: In caſe alſo when the tenant was ready to do his ſeruices & cuſtomes vnto his Lord, and the chiefe lord would refuſe to take ſuch ſeruice and Cuſtomes by the hands of any other then of his next tenant, & ſo ſuch tenaunts in demaund loſt ſome whiles ỹ profits of their landes for a time, & ſome whiles for their whole time, and hitherto no remedie hath bene prouided in this caſe: A remedie is prouided & ordeined in this forme, that ſo ſone as the tenant in demeane (hauing a meane betweene him and the chiefe lord) is diſtrained, incontinent the tenant ſhall purchaſe his writ of Meane. And if the meane hauing land in the ſame Countie, abſent himſelfe vntil the great diſtreſſe be awarded, the plaintife ſhall haue ſuch day giuen him in his writ of great diſtreſſe, afore the cõming whereof 2. counties may be holden, & the ſhirife ſhalbe commanded to diſtraine the Meane by ỹ great diſtres, like as it is cõteined in the writ. And neuertheleſſe the ſhirife in two full Cõties ſhall cauſe to bée proclaimed ſolemnely, that the Meane do come at a daie contayned in the writ, for to anſwere his tenãt, at which day if he come, the plæ ſhal paſſe betwæne them after the common vſage. And if he doe not come, then he ſhall leſe the ſeruices of his tenant, & from thencefwrth the tenant ſhal not anſwere him in anie thing, but the ſame meane being excluded, hee ſhall anſwere vnto the chiefe Lord for ſuch ſeruices & Cuſtomes as the Meane vſed to doe before that time. Neither ſhall the chiefe Lorde haue power to diſtraine, ſo long as the aforeſaid tenãt do offer him the ſeruices and cuſtomes due. And if the chiefe Lord exact more then the Meane ought to doe, the tenaunt in ſuch caſe ſhal haue againſt him all ſuch exceptions as the Meane ſhould, & if the Meane haue nothing within the kings dominiõ, the tenant ſhal neuertheleſſe purchaſe his writ of Meſne, to the Shirife of the ſame ſhire, wherein he is diſtrained, & if the ſhirife returne, that he hath nothing wherby he may be ſummoned, then ſhall the tenãt ſue his writ of attachment, and if the ſhirife returne, that he hath nothing to be attached by, hee ſhall neuertheleſſe ſue his writ of great diſtres, & proclamation ſhal be made in forme aboueſaid. And if the meane haue no lãd in the ſhire, where the diſtreſſe is taken, but hath land in ſome other ſhire, then a writ original ſhall iſſue to ſummon the meane vnto the ſhirife of the ſame ſhire (where the diſtres is takẽ) and whẽ it is returned by the ſhirife, that he hath nothing in his ſhire, a writ iudiciall ſhall iſſue to ſummon the meane, vnto the ſhirife of ỹ ſame ſhire, in which it ſhall be teſtified that hee hath land, & ſuit ſhall be made in the ſame ſhire vntill they haue paſſed vnto the great diſtres, & proclamation as aboue is ſaide, where the Meane hath land in the ſame ſhire, in which the diſtres is takẽ. And neuertheles ſuit ſhall be made in the ſame ſhire, where he hath nothing as aboue is ſaid, of the Meane, ỹ hath nothing vntil the proces come to the great diſtreſſe & proclamatiõ, and ſo after proclamation made in both counties, the Meane ſhalbe foriudged of his fée and ſeruice. excluded, the tenant must of necessitie answere to the chiefe Lord, for al such seruices & customes as the Meane was wont to do to him. And after that the Meane is come into the court, and hath confessed, that he ought to acquite his tenant, or be cõpelled by iudgement to acquite, if after such cõfession or iudgement it is cõplained, that the Meane doth not acquite his tenant, then shall issue a writ iudiciall, that the shirife shal distraine the Meane to acquite the tenant, & to be at a certaine day before the Iusticers, for to shew why he hath not acquited him before, and when they haue procéded vnto ỹ great distres, the plaintife shalbe heard. And if the plaintife can proue, ỹ he hath not acquited him, he shall yéld damages, & by award of the court, ỹ tenant shall goe quite frõ the Meane, and shal attourne vnto the chiefe Lord. And if he come not at the first distres, a writ shal goe forth to distrain him againe, and proclamation shalbe made, & as soone as it is returned, they shall procéd in iudgement as before is said. And it is to be vnderstãd, that by this statute tenãts are not excluded, but they shal haue a warrantie of the Meane & their heirs, if they be impleaded for their tenements, as they haue had before: nor also the tenants be excluded, but that they may sue against their Meanes, as they vsed heretofore, if they sée ỹ their proces may be more auailable by the old custome, thẽ by this statute. And it is to wéete, that by this statute, no remedy is prouided to any Meanes, but only in case where there is but one onely Meane betweene the Lord that distraineth, & the tenant, & but in such case where the Meane is of full age, & but in such case where the tenant may attorne vnto the chiefe Lord without preiudice of an other then of his Meane, which is spoken for women, holding in dower, & tenãts by the curteſie or otherwise for terme of life or in fée taile, vnto whom for certaine causes, remedie is not yet prouided, but (God willing) there shalbe at another time. ¶ Money.

AGainst the perils & damages, which are of late come, & which hereafter may come of the money of Englãd: It is thus ordained, that it be cried & defended on the kings behalfe thorough the whole realme, in al the marchant Townes, that no man vpon grieuous forfaiture, bee so hardy to dispend, receiue, or send money, of other coine then of the coine of the king of England, Ireland, and Scotland. Also that it be defended of the kings behalfe, that none bring money into this cõtrey, but onely for his expenses, neither that he be so hardie to arriue in England, if the force of tẽpest do not inforce him, by good witnesse, but at Douer, or at Sandwich, at London, and S. Botolph, & at Southhampton, and to other cõmon ports. And when he shal come to any of these places, he shal wel and lawfully shew his money to him, that shall be assigned by the king, without any cõcealement, vpon paine of forfeiture of his bodie, and that which he hath, & that from thence he carie not, nor eloine the same by himselfe nor by other, vntill that his money be viewed and examined by him whom ỹ king shall assigne. And further, that it be cried & defended on the kings behalf, vpon paine of forfeiture of his bodie & that which he hath, that no man be so hardie to send money betweene clothes, in fardels, or in bales, or in anie other maner, whereof suspition may be of anie cõcealment. And if there be anie such found, he which found the same, shal haue iij. ỻ. of the pound, and the rest to be to the king. And also that it be cried & commanded on the kings behalfe, that if any finde money coined of anie other coine, then of the coine of the king of England, Irelãd, and Scotland, or rounded money, that he breake the same, & that none be so hardie to gainesay the same, vpon paine of grieuous forfeiture, and he which findeth the same false, shall breake the same, the broken money shalbe giuẽ to him who oweth it, & the false money shall be pierced without restoring it, & the body of him in whose handes the false or clipped money appeareth to be found, be taken & holden vntill such time as he can find suretie, if he be a suspitious man. And because that many of the poore and rich people cannot know the light and clipped money, now it is ordeined, that hereafter he which ought to receiue or paie money, shall receiue & paie the same by weight of v.s. of euen weight by the tumbrell, deliuered by the warden of the Eschange, marked with the kings marke, as the measures are, & it shall be lawfull to anie man to pierce the money which shall not weigh the tumbrell, & the money of other coine, then of the coine of the king of England, Ireland, and Scotland, the weight shall be aswell deliuered & marked by the warden of the Eschange, as the tumbrell, the viewer & the warden

Assises Noꝛdanceller Attaints Knight

FRom henceforth two Iustices shoꝛne shalbe assigned, before whom & none other, assises of Nouel disseisin, Noꝛdanceller, and attaints shalbe taken, and shal associate with them, two oꝛ one of ỹ discreetest knights of the Shire into which they shall come, and shal take the foꝛesaid assises and attaints but thꝛise in the yere at the most, that is to say, First betweene the Quinzime of Saint John Baptist, & the gule of August, and the second time betwéen the feast of the Exaltation of the Crosse, and the Vtas of Saint Michaell, & the third time betweene the feast of the Epiphanie, and the feast of the Purification. And in euery shire at euery taking of assises, before their departure, they shall point the date of their returne, so that euery one of the Shire may know of their comming, and shall adiourne the assises from terme to terme, if the taking of thē bee deferred at any daye by vouching to warrantie, by essoine, oꝛ by default of iuroꝛs. And if they sée that it bee profitable foꝛ any cause, that Assises of Noꝛdancester being respected by essoine oꝛ voucher, ought to bee adiourned into the bench: it shall be lawful foꝛ them to do it, and then they shall sende the Recoꝛd with the oꝛiginall Wꝛitte before the Iusticers of the bench. And when the matter is come to ỹ taking of the assise, the Iusticers of the bench shall remit the matter to the first Iusticers before whom the assise shal bee taken. But from hēceforth the Iusticers of the Bench in such assises shall giue iiii. daies at the least in the yére before ỹ said Iustices assigned, foꝛ to spare expences & labour. Inquisitions of tresp as shall bee determined before the Iusticers of both benches, except the tresp as be so hainous that it shall require greate examination. Inquisitions also of other plees pleaded in either of the benches shall be determined before them, wherein small examination is required, as when the entrie oꝛ seison of any is denied, oꝛ in case when one article is to bee inquired. But inquisition of many & great articles, the which require great examination, shal bee taken before Iusticers of the Bench, except that both parties desire that the inquisition may be taken afoꝛe some of the associates, when they happen to come into those parties, so that from henceforth it shall not bee done but by two Iustices oꝛ one, with some knight of the shire, vpon whome the parties can agrée. And such inquisition shall not bee determined before any Iusticers of the bench, unlesse a daye and place certaine bee appointed in the Shire in pꝛesente of the parties, and the day and place shall bee mentioned in a wꝛitte iudiciall by these woꝛes:

Also it is ordeined, that the Justicers assigned to take assises, shall Jurors not compell the Jurors to say precisely, whether it bee disseisin or not, so that they do shew the truth of the deed, and require ayd of the Justicers. 2 ¶ Where wee haue prouided, that none shalbe impanelled any where out of the shire where hee is dwelling, in recognisances, inquests, and iuries, that hath lesse then an C.s. of land or rent, wherby aswell they that haue more lands, by too often appearing aswel in our Eschequer, as before our Justices of either bench, are much impouerished: Wee therefore considering the intollerable dammage of our people, not onely for the discharge of Jurors such Jurors, but also for the more speedie ministration of Justice to all parties suing in our court, haue prouided and ordeined, that inquests, & recognisances determinable before Justices of either bench, Enquest Justices from henceforth shal be taken in time of Vacation vacation before any of the Justices, before whom the plea is brought, being associate to one Knight of the same Shire, Knight where such enquests shall passe, vnlesse it be an enquest that requireth great examination. And so from henceforth in taking such enquests, the Justices shall doe as to them shall seeme most expedient, for the common vtilitie of our Realme, notwithstanding the statute lately made at Statute Westminster, vpō the taking of such enquestes, Enquests conteining that if any enquests be taken contrary to the forme of the said statute, they should be of none effect. And therfore we command, straightly charging thee, that incontinent without further delaie, thou shalt cause to be read & published in cities, boroughs, market townes, and other solemne places, throwout thy libertie, where thou shalt thinke most necessarie, of the articles abouesaide, the which we haue granted, willing them to be kept and obserued stedfastly and without contradiction, and that thou notifie & declare all and singuler the premisses to all our liege people without delay, witnesse, &c. Stat de finibus leuatis Anno 27. Ed. 1. cap. 4.

3 ¶ Where it is conteined in a statute made at Westminster, the second daye of Aprill, the xxvii. yeare of the reigne of the kings father that now is, that Enquests Enquests Recognisances and recognisances, taken before the Justices of either bench, should be taken before any Justice of the places, accompanied with some knight of the shire where Knight. such inquests happen to bee taken, if they haue not need of great examination: And that in such inquests the Justices shall Justices doe as they shall thinke most expedient for the weale of the Realme: the which statute needeth to be better declared. It is agreed, that enquests & Juries that happe Juries to be take hereafter in pleas of land, that require not great examination, shalbe taken in the countrey before a Justice of the place where the plea is, accompanied with a substantiall man of the countrey, knight or other, so that a certaine day be giuen in the Bench, and a certaine day & place in the countrey, in presence of the parties demaunding the same. And also inquests and Juries in pleas of land that require great examination, shall be taken in the countrey (in maner abouesaid) before two Justices of the Bench. Anno 12 Ed. 2. cap. 3. Stat. Ebor. 1.

4 ¶ Whereas in a Statute made in Yorke in the time of the father of our soueraigne Lord the king that now is, it is Enquests Juries conteined that Enquests & Juries, which be, and shall be hereafter to be taken, requiring no great examination, shalbe taken before one Justice of the place where the plea is, adioyning to him one discrete man of the countrey, knight or other, so that a certaine day be giuen in the bench, Day & a certaine day and place in the countrey, in the presence of the parties, if the demaundant pray the same. And also the inquests and Juries in plea of land, which require great examination, shalbe taken in the countrey in the said forme, before ii. Justices of the Bench: It is accorded and Justices enacted, that all such inquests which are Enquests to be taken hereafter in plea of land, shall be taken aswell at the request of the tenant, as of the demandant. All other procesle according to the said statute in such case saued and kept. An. 2. E. 3. cap. 17.

And when the other sisters come to full age, they shal do their seruice to the Lords of ẏ fee by the hands of the eldest sister. Yet shall not the eldest by this occasion exact of her yonger sisters, homage, ward, or any other subiection, for when they be all sisters, & in maner as one heire to one inheritance, if the eldest should haue homage of the other sisters, or demaund ward, then the inheritãce should seeme to be diuided, so that the eldest sister should be seignioresse, & tenãt of inheritance, (simul & semel) that is to say, heire of her owne part, & seignioresse to her sisters, which could not stand well together in this case, for the eldest can demaund no more then her sisters, but the chiefe mease by reason of her ancientie. Corporatiõ

AND forasmuch that the making of the saide corporation is meritorious, and verie good for the common wealth of this your Realme, it is therefore expedient and necessarie to prounde, that no person of the saide politike bodie and comminaltie aforesaide, be suffered to exercise Physike, but onely those persons that bee profound, sad, and discreet, groundly learned, and deepely studied in Physike. In consideration whereof, and for the authorising of the same letters patents, and also entarging of further articles for the said common wealth to be had and made, pleaseth it your highnesse &c. to enact &c. that the saide corporation of the saide comminaltie and fellowship of the facultie of Physike aforesaide, and all and euery graunt, article, & other thing contained and specified in the saide Letters patents be approued, granted, ratified, and confirmed in this present Parliament, and clearely authorized and admitted by the same, good, lawfull, and auailable to your saide bodie corporate, and their successours for euer, in as ample and large manner as may bee taken, thought and construed by the same. And that it shall please your highnesse &c. further ly to enact, &c. that the fire persons aforesaide, in your saide most gracious letters Patentes, named as principals, and first named of the saide comminaltie and fellowship, choosing to them two or moe of the saide comminaltie from hence forwarde bee called and cleped elects. And that the same elects yeerely choose one of them to bee President of the saide comminaltie, as oft as any of the roomes and place of the same elects shall fortune to bee voyde by death or other wise, then the superuisors of the same elects (within thirtie or fourty dayes next after the death of them or any of them) shall chuse, name, and admit one or moe, as nede shall require, of the most cunning and experte men, of, and in the sayde facultie in London, to supply the saide room and number of eight persons.

And that if at any time hereafter the said Presidẽt for the time being, or any of ẏ said Commons or Fellowes for the time being, by any wayes or means be appointed or elected to any watch or ward, office of Constable, or any other office within ẏ said citie or suburbs, the same appointmẽt or election to be vtterly voide and of none effect, any order, custome or law to ẏ contrarie before this time vsed in the said citie notwithstanding. And that it may please your most royall Maiestie &c. for the Common wealth and suertie of your louing Subiects of this your Realme, in, and for the administration of medicines to such of your saide subiectes as shal haue næde of the same, that from henceforth the said president for the time being, commons and fellowes and their successors, may yærely at such time as they shall thinke most mæte and conuenient for the same, elect and choose foure persons of the saide commons and fellowes of the best learned, wisest, and most discræte, such as they shall thinke conuenient, and haue experience in the saide facultie of Physike: And that the saide foure persons so elected and chosen, after a corporall othe to them ministred by the saide Presidẽt or his Deputie, shall and may by vertue of this present acte, haue full authoritie and power, as often as they shall think mæte and conuenient, to enter into the house or houses of all and euery Apothecary, nowe or any time hereafter vsing the mysterie or craft of an Apothecarie within ẏ saide Citie, onely to search, viewe and sée such Apothecarie wares, drugs, and stuffe as the saide Apothecaries or anye of them haue, or at any time hereafter shal haue in their house or houses. And all such wares drugs and stuffes as the same foure persons shall then finde defectiue, corrupted, and not mæte nor conuenient to be ministred in any medicines for the health of mans bodye, the same foure persons calling to them the Wardẽs of the saide mysterie of Apothecaries within the said Citie for the time being, or one of them, shal cause to be burnt, or otherwise destroye the same as they shal think mæte by their discretion. And if the said Apothecaries or any of them at any time hereafter doe obstinately or willingly refuse or denye the said foure persons yærely elected and chosen as is beforesaide, to enter into their said house or houses for the causes, intent and purpose before rehearsed: That then they and euery of them so offending contrary to this act, for euery time that he or they doe so offende, to forfeite an hundred shillings, the one halfe to your Maiestie, and the other halfe to him that will sue for the same by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of the kings courts, wherin no wager of lawe, essoine, or protection shalbe allowed. And if the saide foure persons or any of them so elected & chosen, as before is saide, doe refuse to bee sworne, or after his saide othe to him or them administred, do obstinately refuse to make the said search and view once in the yære, at such time as they shal think most conuenient by their discretions, hauing no lawfull impediment by sickneſſe or otherwise to the contrary: That then for euery such wilfull and obstinate default, euery of the saide foure persons making default, to forfeit xl.s. And forasmuch as the science of Physike doeth comprehend, include & conteine the knowledge of Surgerie as a speciall member and part of the same, Therefore be it enacted, that any of the said company or felowship of Physicions being able, chosen and admitted by the saide Presidẽt and fellowship of Physicions, may from time to time as well within the citie of London, as elsewhere within this Realme, practise & exercise the said science of Physike in al and euery his members and part, any act, statute, or prouision made to ẏ contrary notwithstanding. 5 The king our soueraigne lorde by the aduise &c. duly pondring among other things necessary for the Common wealth of this Realme, that it is very expedient and needeful to prouide for men expert in the science of Physike and Surgerie, for the health of mans body, when infirmitie and sickenesse shall happen, for the due exercise and maintenance whereof, good & necessarie acts be alreadie made and prouided: Yet neuertheles, forasmuch as London within the citie of London where men of great experience as wel in speculation as in practise of the science & facultie of Surgerie, be abiding and inhabiting, and haue more commonly the daily exercise and experience of the same science of Surgerie, then is had or vsed within other partes of this realme, and by occasion therof many expert persons be brought vp vnder them as their seruants, apprentises & others, who by the exercise and diligent information of their said masters, as well now as hereafter shall exercise the saide Science within diuers other parts of this realme, to the great relefe, comfort and succour of much people, and to the sure safegarde of their bodily health, their limmes and liues: And forasmuch as within the saide citie of London, there be now two seuerall and distinct companies of Surgeons occupying and exercising the saide science & facultie of Surgerie, the one company being commonly called the Barbors of London, and the other company called the Surgeons of London: which company of Barbors be incorporated to sue and to be sued by the name of masters and gouernors of the mysterie and comminaltie of the Barbors of London, by vertue and authoritie of the letters patents vnder the great seale of the late king of famous memory king Edwarde the fourth dated at Westminster the foure and twentieth day of February, in the first yere of his reigne, which afterwarde aswell by our now most dread soueraigne lord, as by the right noble & vertuous prince K. Henrie the 7. Father vnto the kings most excellent highnes now being, were & be confirmed, as by sundry letters patents thereof made, among other things in the same conteined, more at large may appeare: And the other company called the Surgeons, be not incorporate, nor haue any maner of corporation, which two seuerall and distinct companies of Surgeons were necessarie to bee vnited and made one bodie incorporate, to the intent that by their vnion and often assemblies togeither, the good and due order, exercise and knowledge of the said science or facultie of Surgerie, should be aswel in speculation as in practise, both to themselues, and all other their said seruants and apprentices, now, & hereafter to be brought vp vnder them, and by their learnings and diligent and ripe informations, more perfect, speedie, and effectuall remedie should bee, then it hath bene or should bee, if the saide two companies of Barbours and Surgeons should continue seuered asonder, and not ioyned together, as they before this time haue bene and vsed themselues, not medling together: wherefore in consideration of the premisses, be it &c. that the said two seuerall and distinct companies of Surgeons, that is to say, both the Barbours and the Surgeons, and euery person of them being a free man of either of the saide companies, after the custome of the saide citie of London, and their successours from henceforth immediatly, be vnited and made one entire and whole body corporate, and one comminalty perpetuall, which at all times hereafter shal be called by the name of masters and gouernours of the mysterie and comminaltie of Barbours and Surgeons of London for euermore, and by none other name. And by the same name to implead and bee impleaded, before al manner of Iustices, in all courts, in al maner of actions & sutes. And also to purchase, enioy, & take to them & to their successors all manner of lands, tenements, rents, and other possessions whatsoeuer they be, & also shal haue a common seale to serue for the busines of the saide company & corporation for euer. And by the same name peaceably, quietly, & indifferently haue possession, & enioy to them and to their successors for euer, all such lands & tenements, & other hereditaments whatsoeuer, which the saide company or cõminalty of barbours haue and enioy to the vse of the saide misterie & comminaltie of barbours of London. And also shall peaceably and quietly haue and enioy all and singuler benefits, graunts, liberties, priuiledges, franchises, and free customes, and also all manner of other things at any time giuen and graunted vnto the sayde companies of Barbours or Surgeons, by whatsoeuer name or names they or anie of them were called, and which they or any of them now haue,

And as largely to haue and enioy the premisses, as if the same were & had bene specially & particularly expressed and declared with the best & most clearest wordes & termes in the lawe, to all intentes and purposes. And that all persons of the said companie now incorporate by this present acte, and their successors, that shalbee lawfully admitted and approued, to occupy surgerie, after the forme of the statute in that case ordained and prouided, shal be exempt for bearing of armour, or to bee put in anie watches of inquests. And that they & their successors shal haue the search, ouersight, punishment and correction, aswel of frémen as of forreines, for such offences as they or any of them shal commit or doe against the order of barbery or surgery, as afore this time among the saide mistery & company of barbors of London, hath ben vsed and accustomed, according to the good and politike rules & ordinances by them made & approued by the Lord Chãceller, Treasurer, and two chiefe Iustices of either bench, or any three of them, after the forme of the statute in that case ordained & prouided. And further bee it &c. that the said maisters or gouernours of ỳ said mysterie and comminaltie of Barbors and Surgeons of London, and their successors yeerely for euer, after their saide discretions, at their frée liberty and pleasure, shal and may haue and take without contradiction, foure persons condemned, adiudged, and put to death for felony, by ỳ due order of the kings lawes of this Realme, for anatomies, without any further sute or labour to bee made to the kings highnes, his heires or successors for the same. And to make incision of the same dead bodies or otherwise to order the same after their said discretions at their pleasures for their further & better knowledge, instruction, insight, learning, and expertience in the said science or faculties of Surgery: sauing vnto all persons their heires & successors all such right, title, interest, and demaunde, which they or any of them might lawfully claime or haue, in or to any of the lands and tenements, with the appurtenances belonging vnto the said cõpany of Barbors & Surgeons or anie of them, at any time afore ỳ making of this act, in as ample maner and forme as they or any of them had or ought to haue had heretofore: Any thing in this present acte comprised to the contrary hereof, in anie wise notwithstanding. And forasmuch as such persons vsing the mistery or faculties of surgery, often times meddle and take into their cures & houses such sicke & diseased persõs as be infected with the pestilence, greate pocks, & such other contagious infirmities, do vse or exercise barbery, as washing or shauing and other feates thereunto belonging, which is very perillous for infecting the kings liege people resorting to their shops & houses, there being washed or shauen: Wherefore it is now enacted &c. that no manner of person within the Cittie of London, suburbs of ỳ same, & one mile compasse of the saide cittie of London, after the feast of the Natiuity of our Lord God next comming, vsing any barbery or shauing, or that hereafter shall vse any barbery or shauing within the saide Cittie of London, suburbs, or one mile circuite of the same city of London, be nor they, nor none other of them, to his or their vse, shal occupy any surgery, letting of blood, or any other thing belonging to Surgerie, drawing of teeth onely except. And furthermore in like maner, whosoeuer that vseth the mysterie or crafte of Surgerie within the circuite aforesaide, as long as he shall fortune to vse the saide mistery or craft of surgery, shal in no wise occupy nor exercise the feate or crafte of Barbery or shauing, neither by himselfe nor by none other for him, to his or their vse. And moreouer, ỳ al maner of persons vsing surgery, for ỳ time being, aswel frémen as forreiners, aliens and strangers within the said cittie of London, ỳ suburbs thereof, and one mile compas of the same citie of London, before the feast of S. Michael the Archangell next comming shal haue an opẽ signe on the strẽt side, where they shal fortune to dwell, that al ỳ kings liege people there passing by, may know at all times whither to resort for their remedies in time of necessitie. ¶ The Proclamation.

HEnricus Dei gratia &c. The king our soueraigne Lord considereth, how daily within this realme, his coine is traiterously coũterfeited, murders, robberies, felonies bene grieuously committed and done, also vnlawfull reteiners, idlenesse, vnlawfull playes, extortions, misdemeanings of shirifes, escheators & many other enormities & vnlawfull demeanings daily groweth more & more within this his realme, to the great displeasure of God, hurt and impouerishing of his subiects, and to the subuersion of the policie & good gouernance of this his Realme: and by these said enormities and mischiefes his peace is broken, his subiects troubled, inquieted, and impouerished, the husbãdrie of this land decaied, whereby the Church of England is vpholden, the seruice of God continued, euery man thereby hath sustenance, euery inheritour his rent for his land: For repressing and auoiding of the said mischiefes, sufficient lawes and ordinances be made by authoritie of manie and diuers parliaments holden within this Realme, to the great costes of the king, his lords, and commons of the same, and lacketh nothing, but that the said lawes be not put in due execution, which lawes ought to bee put in due execution by the Iustices of Peace in euery shire of this Realme, to whom his grace hath put and giuen full authoritie so to doe, sith the beginning of his reigne: And now it is commen to his knowledge, that his subiects be little eased of the said mischiefe by the said Iustices, but by many of them rather hurt then helped. And if the subiects complaine to these Iustices of peace, of any wrõgs done to them, they haue thereby no remedie, and the said mischiefes doe encrease & not subdued. The kings grace cõsidereth, that a great part of the wealth and prosperitie of this lande standeth in that, that his subiects may liue in suretie vnder his peace in their bodies and goods, and that the husbandry of this land may increase and be vpholden, which must be had by due execution of the said lawes and ordinances: chargeth and commaundeth the Iustices of peace of this his shires, to endeuor them to doe and execute the tenor of their Commission, and the said lawes and ordinances, ordeined for subduing of the premisses, as they will stande in loue and fauour of his grace, and in auoiding of the paines that be ordeined if they doe the contrarie.

of his said realm contained, that whereas the holy Church of England was founded in the estate of Prelacie within the realme of England by the saide grandfather & his progenitors, & the Earles, Barons, and other Nobles of his saide Realme & their ancestors, from them to informe the people of the law of God, & for to make hospitalities, almes & other workes of charitie in the places where the Churches were founded, for the soules of the founders, their heires, & of al Christen, and certaine possessions, as much in fees, lands, rents, as in aduowsons, which doe extende to a great value, were assigned by ỳ said founders to the Prelats & other people of the holy church of the said realme, to susteine the same charge, & especially of the possessiõs which were assigned to Archbishops, Bishops, Abbots, Priors, religious, & all other people of holy church, by the kings of the said realm, Earles, Barons, & other great men of his realme, the same kings, Earles, Barõs, & other Nobles, as lords. Aduowees, haue had & ought to haue the custodie of such voydances & the presentments & the collations of ỳ benefices being of such Prelacies. And the said kings in times past were wont to haue ỳ greatest part of their Councel for the safegard of the realme, when they had need, of such Prelates & Clerkes so aduaunced: The Bishops of Rome vsurping the seignories of such possessiõs & benefices, do giue & grant ỳ same benefices to aliens which did neuer dwel in Englande, & to Cardinals which might not dwell heere, and to other as well aliens & denizens, as if hee had bene patron, or aduowee of the saide dignities and benefices, as he was not of right after the law of England, whereby if they should be suffered, there should vneth be any benefice within a short time in the said realme, but that it should be in the hands of aliens & denizens by vertue of such prouisions, against the good will & disposition of the founders of the same benefices. And so the elections of Archbishops, Bishops, & other religious, should faile, and the almes, hospitals, and other workes of charitie, which should be don in the said places should be withdrawen, the said grandfather, & other lay patrons, in ỳ time of such voidances should lose their presentments, the saide Councell shoulde perish, & goods without number should be carried out of the Realme, in adnullation of the estate of the holy Church of England, & disherison of the saide grandfather, & the Earles, Barons, and other Nobles of the said Realme, & in offence & destruction of the lawes & rightes of his realme, & against the good disposition and will of the first founders: By the assent of the Earles, Barons & other Nobles, & of all the saide Comunaltie, at their instances and requestes (the dammage and grieuances aforesaide considered) in the said full Parliament it was ordeined, ỳ the saide oppressions, grieuances & dammage in the same Realme from henceforth should not be suffered in any maner. And now it is shewed to our Soueraigne Lord the king, in this present Parliamẽt holden at Westminster, at the vtas of the Purification of our Ladie, the fiue and twentieth yeere of his reigne of Englãd, and of France the twelfth, by the grieuous complaints of all the Commons of this realme, that the grieuances and mischiefes aforesaid, do daily abound to more greater dammage & destruction of al this Realme, more then euer were before, vz. That now of late the Bishop of Rome, Pope by procurement of clerkes & otherwise, hath reserued & doeth daily reserue to his collation generally and specially, as well Archbishoprickes, Abbies & Priories, as Archbishops all other dignities and other benefices of Englande, which be of the aduowsie of people of holy Church, and giue the same as well to Aliens as to Denizens, and taketh of all such benefices the first fruites, Aliens First fruits and many other profits, and a great part of the treasure of the Realme is carried away and dispended out of the Realme by the purchasours of such graces. & also by such priuie reseruations many clerkes aduanced in this realm by their true Patrons which haue peaceably holden their aduancements by long time, be suddenly put out: whereupon the saide Commons haue prayed our saide Soueraigne Lorde the king, that sith the right of the crowne of England, & the law of the saide realme is such, that vpon the mischiefs and dammage, which happeneth to his realme, he ought and is bounden of the accorde of his said people in his Parliament, thereof to make remedie, and lawe of voyding the mischieles and dammage, which thereof commeth, that it may please him thereupon to ordeine remedy: Our soueraigne Lorde the King, seeing the mischiefes and dammage before named, and hauing regarde to the saide Statute made in the time of his said Graundfather, and to the causes contained in the same, which Statute holdeth always his force, & was neuer defeated nor annulled in any point, & by so much he is bounde by his othe, to do the same to be kept as a law of his realm, though that by sufferance & negligence it hath bin sithence attempted to the contrary: also hauing regard to the grieuous cõplaints made to him by his people in diuers his Parliaments holden heretofore, willing to ordeine remedie for the great damnage & mischiefes, which haue happened, and daily do happen to the Church of England by the said cause. By ỳ assent of all the great men and the Comminalty of the said Realme, to the honour of God & profite of the said Church of England, & of all his realme, hath ordered & established, that the frée elections of Archbishops, Bishops, & all other dignities and benefices electiue in England, shall holde from henceforth in the manner as they were granted by the kings progenitors, & founded by the ancestors of other Lords: And that all Prelates, and other people of holy Church, which haue aduowsons of any benefices of the kings gift, or of any of his progenitors, or of other Lords & donours, to doe diuine seruices and other charges thereof ordeined, shall haue their collations & presentmentes freely in the manner as they were infeoffed by their donours. And in case that reseruatiõ, collation, or prouision be made by the court of Rome, of any Archbishoprick, Bishopricke, dignitie, or other benefice, in disturbance of the election, collations, or presẽtations aforenamed, that at the time of ỳ voydance that such reseruations, collations, & prouisions ought to take effect, our Soueraigne Lorde the king & his heires, shall haue & enioy for the same time collations to the Archbishoprikes and other dignities electiue, which be of his aduowrie, such as his progenitors had before ỳ frée election was granted, sithence that the elections were first graunted by the kings progenitors vpon a certaine forme and condition, as to demaunde licence of the king to choose, and after the election to haue his royall assent, and not in other manner. Which conditions not kept, the king ought by reason to resort to his first nature: And if any such reseruation, prouision, or collation bee made of any house of religion of the kings aduowrie in disturbance of the free election, our Soueraigne Lord the king and his heires shall haue for that time the collation to giue this dignitie to a conuenient person. and in case that collation, reseruation, or prouision be made to the Court of Rome of any church, Prebend, or other benefices, which be of the auowrie of people of holy Church, whereof the king is auowée paramount immediate, that at ỳ same time of the voydance, at which time the collation, reseruation, or prouision ought to take effect as afore is said, the king & his heires thereof shall haue the presentment or collation for that time. And so frõ time to time whensoeuer such people of holy Church shalbe disturbed of their presentments, or collations by such reseruatiõs, collations, or prouisions, as afore is saide. Sauing to them ỳ right of their aduowsons & their presentments, when no collation or prouision of the court of Rome is thereof made, where that the said people of holy Church shal or wil to the same benefices present or make collation. And that their presentees may enioy the effect of their collations or presentmẽts: And in the same manner euery other Lorde, of what condition that he be, shall haue the collations or presentmentes to the houses of religion which be of his aduowrie, and other benefices of holy church, which bee perteining to the same houses. And if such aduowees doe not present to such benefices within the halfe yeere after such voydance, nor the Bishop of the place doe not giue the same by lapse of time within a moneth after halfe a yeere, that then the king shall haue thereof the presentmẽts & collations as he hath of other of his owne aduowrie. And in case ỳ the presentments of the king or the presentees of other Patrons of holy church, or of their aduowées, or they to whom the king of such patrons or aduowees afore saide haue giuen benefices, pertaining to their presentments or collations, be disturbed by such prouisors, so that they may not haue possession of such benefices by vertue of the presentments or collatiõ so to them made, or that they which be in possession of such benefices, be impeached vpon their said possessions by such prouisours: then the saide prouisours, their procuratours, executours, & notaries shalbe attached by their body, & brought in to answere. And if they be conuict, they shal abide in prisõ without being let to mainprise or baile, or otherwise deliuered, till that they haue made fine and ransome to the king at his will, and grée

3 ¶ Becauſe that it is ſhewed to our ſouereigne Lord the king by the grieuous & clamarous complaints of the great men & Commons aforeſaid, how that diuers of the people be and haue beene drawen out of the Realme, to anſwers of things, whereof the cogniſance pertaineth to the Kings court. And alſo that the iudgements giuen in the ſame Court be impeached in another court, in preiudice and diſheriſon of our Soueraigne Lorde the king, and of his crowne, and of all the people of his ſaid Realme, and in the vnbooing and deſtruction of the Common law of the ſame realm at all times vſed. Whereupon good deliberation had with the great men, & other of his ſaid Counſel, it is aſſented & accorded by our Soueraigne Lorde the king, & the great men and Commons aforeſaide, that all the people of the kings liegeance, of what condition ỹ they be, which draweth any out of the Realme in plea, whereof the cogniſance pertaineth to the kings Court, or of things whereof iudgements be giuen in the kings court, or which doe ſue in any other court, to defeat or impeach ỹ iudgements giuen in the kings Courte, ſhal haue day, conteining the ſpace of two moneths, by warning to be made to them in the place where the poſſeſſiõs be which be in debate, or elſe where, where they haue landes or other poſſeſſions, by the Shirifes or other the kings miniſters, to be before the king and his Councell, or in his Chancerie, or before the kings Juſtices in his places of the one bench or the other, or before other the kings Juſtices, which to the ſame ſhalbe deputed to anſwere in their proper perſons to the king of the contempt done in this behalfe. And if they come not at the ſaide daye in their proper perſõs to be at the law, they, their procuratours, atturnies, executours, notaries, and maintainers, ſhall from this day forth be put out of the kings protection, and their landes, goods, and cattels forfait to ỹ king. And their bodies, wherſoeuer they may be found, ſhalbe taken & impriſoned, and raunſomed at the kings will, and vpon the ſame a writ ſhall bee made to take them by their bodies, and to ſeiſe their landes, goods and poſſeſſions into the kings hands. And if it be returned, that they be not found, they ſhalbe put in exigent and outlawed.

Prouided alwayes, that at what time they come before that they be outlawed, & will yeld them to the kings priſon, to bee iuſtified by the law, and to receiue that ỹ the court ſhall award in this behalf, that they ſhalbe thereto receiued. The forfaiture of the landes, goods, and cattels abyding in their force, if they doe not yeelde them within the ſaid two monethes as afore is ſaid. Anno 27. E. 3. cap. 1.
